“THE CODE OF CONDUCT EXISTS TO STEER US AND EMPOWER US TO MAKE THE RIGHT CHOICES.”

SCOTT GEGENHEMER
Our responsibilities extend beyond the horizons of offering only mobile communications services. The telecom sector is one of the most dynamic in the world; as such, the need to modify and adapt is a continuous process. At Zain, we celebrate this opportunity as it brings out the best in us, making us strive to provide all our stakeholders with our best outputs at all times. We are motivated to remain the innovative market leader in delivering a digital lifestyle to our customer, surpass their expectations, and inspire the communities in which we operate.

We take pride in our foundations and employees. All of which are in line with the objectives of our corporate strategy and are based on our core values. These values remain constant irrespective of the different national cultures and identities that make up our Zain family. These values are: Radiance, Heart and Belonging.

Zain is a company of the region, from the region, and for the region. It is listening, implementing, and innovating so as to fulfill our brand promise of helping to create ‘A wonderful world’. Zain has played a pivotal role over the years in making positive inroads; alongside the growth in mobile broadband and the impact it has on businesses and communities.

We know that today’s world is dynamic and complex, and we will continue to face situations that do not always have obvious solutions. In the face of such complexities, the ethical guidelines of the Code of Conduct exists to steer us and empower us in making the right choices — as individuals and as a company. Adhering to the Code of Conduct is the responsibility of each and every one of us at Zain Group and across the operating companies. Therefore, we can have a positive impact on our industry, the communities in which we operate, and society at large — and continue to grow as a company we are proud of, where corporate sustainability and social responsibility are key competitive advantages.

Thank you for your continued commitment and support.
RADIANCE, HEART & BELONGING
Zain’s Code of Conduct requires from all its employees that they work with the highest level of integrity, fairness and honesty. If our practices are to be perceived as lacking integrity or being less than honest and fair, it could lead to serious legal and reputational risks coupled with negative consequences for the organization.

To maintain high ethical standards at Zain, we are committed in refusing all forms of corruption, bribery and dishonest work ethics. Accordingly, it is a priority for us that our suppliers, business partners, agents and intermediaries also adopt our code of ethics.

We adhere to a stringent supplier selection process grounded in ethical business principles that embrace, fair, transparent and competitive practices. Suppliers are selected as per the Supplier Code of Conduct and must ensure that they adhere to the stated principles. We recognize that as the corporate environment evolves over time, our Code of Conduct should also develop in order to accurately reflect the corporate environment. Accordingly, we have a review process that allows us to make necessary revisions; ensuring that we conduct our business in accordance with internationally recognized standards.

“AN ENVIRONMENT WHERE WE ARE TREATED WITH DIGNITY AND RESPECT.”
THE PURPOSE OF HAVING A CODE OF CONDUCT

At Zain, we have always recognized that our own long-term interests and those of our various stakeholders depend on strict adherence to applicable regulation, the Rule of Law and on following the highest standards of ethics. Ethical business conduct does not mean merely adhering to minimum legal compliance. As an industry leader, we aspire to be amongst the best-in-class in our corporate sustainability and social responsibility practices. To achieve that we must actively promote the highest standards in human rights, labor standards and the establishment of a sound environmental and protection practices throughout our core business activities. We firmly believe that upholding ethical business principles is everyone’s responsibility and an integral part of managing Zain’s business and brand.

Our Management has approved and issued this Code of Conduct that is shared and reinforced throughout the Zain Group and Operating Companies and by our various stakeholders. Respective functions at Zain are responsible for reviewing the Code of Conduct on an annual basis and ensuring that it is implemented throughout the organization. Zain values are an intrinsic part of the business and as such are embedded in the Code of Conduct. All Zain employees are expected to behave and conduct their business in accordance with the Code of Conduct. Stricter guidelines or more detailed instructions may be appropriate for certain countries as per the local rules and regulations; however, they must not contradict the principles of the Code of Conduct.

RESPECT FOR THE INDIVIDUAL

“ZAIN IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER AND IS COMMITTED TO PROVIDING A WORKPLACE THAT IS FREE OF DISCRIMINATION OF ANY TYPE.”

We all have the absolute right to work in an environment where we are treated with dignity and respect. Zain is committed to creating such an environment because it brings out the full potential in each of us, thereby contributing directly to our business success. We strive to help everyone realize their full potential.

Zain is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to providing a workplace that is free of discrimination of any type (gender, race, ethnicity, religion) including abusive, offensive or harassing behaviour. Violations to this policy will not be tolerated and the company will take remedial action. Any employee who feels harassed or discriminated against should immediately report the incident to his/her Line Manager or to Human Resources Department (HRD).
CREATE A CULTURE OF OPEN & HONEST COMMUNICATION

At Zain, everyone should feel comfortable to speak his or her mind, particularly with respect to ethics. Zain adheres to the principles of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, and places a great deal of importance on: freedom from discrimination on any grounds; freedom from arbitrary detention, execution or torture; freedom of peaceful assembly and association; freedom of thought, conscience and religion; and freedom of opinion and expression.

Zain will also take positive steps in ensuring that it is not at any point in time, through any of its business relations; directly or indirectly complicit in human rights or labor practice violations. Managers have a responsibility to create an open and supportive environment where employees feel comfortable raising such questions. We all benefit tremendously when employees exercise their power to prevent mistakes or wrongdoing by asking the right questions at the right times. Zain will investigate all reported instances of questionable or unethical behaviour. In every instance where improper behaviour is found to have occurred, the company will take appropriate action. We will not tolerate retaliation against employees who raise genuine ethical concerns in good faith.

Employees are encouraged, in the first instance, to address such issues with their managers or the HRD, as most problems can be resolved swiftly. If for any reason this is not possible or if an employee is not comfortable raising the issue with his or her manager or the HRD, Zain’s Board of Directors operates an open-door policy.

A whistleblowing framework is an essential best-practice, allowing operational procedures to build a responsible, ethical organizational culture, requiring solid Board and management commitment. Zain has developed its Whistleblowing policy, which sets out the guiding principles and procedures for reporting any misconduct to the designated authorities within the company so that appropriate corrective actions can be taken. This policy addresses Zain’s commitment to integrity and ethical behaviour by helping to foster and maintain an environment where employees, officers and directors can act appropriately without fear of retaliation.

Zain’s commitment to integrity begins with upholding the law and complying with set rules and regulations wherever we might conduct business. In cases where there is a lack of clarity or where doubt may arise with regards to whether a possible action is permitted as per the local laws and/or Zain’s policy, advice should be sought from the HRD or Legal Counsel. We are responsible for preventing violations of the law and for speaking up if we see possible violations. Zain places the safety of its products, services and consumer rights at the forefront of its operations, and conducts its commercial activities in a responsible manner. We actively encourage the responsible use of mobile phones and related services.

Zain is dedicated to ethical, fair and vigorous competition. We respect the privacy and integrity of users of our products and services, and other stakeholders. We will make independent pricing and marketing decisions and will not improperly cooperate or coordinate our activities with our competitors. We will not offer or solicit improper payments or gratuities in connection to the purchase of goods or services for Zain, or the sale of its products and services, nor will we engage or assist in unlawful boycotts of particular customers. Zain will not engage nor be part of anti-trust behaviour vis-a-vis competitors. Employees are generally forbidden to engage in such unlawful boycotts.

We endeavor to adhere to strict standards when processing personal data and customers’ product and service information. We collect personal data relating to our products and services in an open and transparent fashion and provide fair and reasonable choices on its collection and use. All personal data collected and held by Zain as per the business needs lawfully and securely and in a manner that protects the privacy and rights of individuals.

“ZAIN PLACES THE SAFETY OF ITS PRODUCTS, SERVICES AND CONSUMER RIGHTS AT THE FOREFRONT OF ITS OPERATIONS.”

Uphold the Law
Zain is committed to adopting relevant environmental standards as part of our commitment to sustain a healthy and safe environment. Zain’s environmental targets go beyond mere legal compliance. We achieve these targets through an environmental strategy based on global standards such as ISO 14001, Environmental and Social Management Plan (ESMP) Guidelines as well as processes and practices, relating to our products and services and to our management of facilities and network sites.

Zain’s environmental activities are based on a life cycle approach. The goal is to reduce the environmental impact of our products, services and network operations throughout the whole product life cycle. Environmental considerations are incorporated into our network rollouts, product development, processes and service design, including managing our supplier network. This includes minimizing use of energy and supporting sound recycling of materials and used products where applicable.

Zain does not roll out networks on the habitats of endangered species, and engages with the various local environmental protection agencies to ensure that networks are not deployed in protected areas. The company also engages with various regulatory authorities to ensure that the emitted EMF frequencies are as per local and international standards. Zain insists that its suppliers adhere to universally recognized environmental standards. Suppliers must present plans to ensure that possible negative impacts from operations have mitigation and remedial plans.
